

● Dean's of Basra Technical Technological Institute speech

On behalf of myself, the faculty members, and staff at the Technical Technological Institute in Basra, I warmly welcome you to the official website of the institute.

- Established in 1973 as a pioneering educational institution specializing in technological disciplines in Iraq, the institute joined the Southern Technical University, affiliated with the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research, in 2014. Since then, it has continued to play an active and vital role.
  - The institute consists of eight scientific departments and five branches dedicated to preparing skilled technical personnel who meet the demands of the labor market. Students are empowered to contribute meaningfully to society and actively participate in advancing their respective fields.
  - Efforts are continuously made to develop academic staff through participation in training and leadership programs, while promoting excellence in scientific research.
  - Being an integral part of the community, the institute organizes various activities serving society, fosters cooperation by qualifying, employing, and following up with graduates, and provides them with the professional expertise needed to keep pace with labor market requirements. It also supports and nurtures individuals with innovative ideas.
  - To complement theoretical knowledge, practical training is provided through specialized laboratories and workshops equipped with the latest technology aligned with market needs.
  - The institute specializes in the practical aspect to complement theoretical studies by training students in specialized laboratories and educational workshops equipped with the latest devices that meet the demands of the labor market.
